

TUESDAY TECH TIPS

A weekly update of real estate related tech news and tips

Need a change?

If you are a real estate agent in the Danville, San Ramon, Alamo, Diablo and Dublin area and you'd like to work with a broker that "gets" technology, come and talk with me!

I am the manager of Berkshire Hathaway Home Services Drysdale Properties offices in Blackhawk, Concord and Danville. Let's explore the possibilities!

The Blog

For the past 9 years I have been publishing a weekly blog for real estate professionals. Each week I find some new app, software program or some new gadget that I think will be helpful to you in your business. Occasionally, I slip in a little sales training that I think you would find useful too.

And on rare occasions I publish a rant about something that rubbed me the wrong way. Check it out:

Great way to save text messages

How do you communicate with your clients these days? Using text messaging much?

If so, how do you capture those conversations into your transaction logs?

You could always take screen shots from your phone, but that's clunky and it's difficult to make sure that you've captured everything.

If you are ignoring that important part of your record keeping it could come back to bite you at some point in the future.

So, if you are an iPhone user, I have a solution for you. It's not cheap, but it may just save you thousands of dollars in the future if you need to come up with the conversation with your client that can prove your point!

It's called TouchCopy 16 and it was originally developed to do things that iTunes did not do well with your music library, but over the years it has developed a full suite of tools that you can use to manage what is on your phone.

The part that I like best though is how you can use it to capture and print your Messages. From their website we learn:

Transfer Messages from iPhone to Computer

There are many reasons why you'd need to backup or print your iPhone messages; perhaps they contain precious images you'd like to save to your photo library, or you wish to keep a copy of those long text message conversations, or even for legal purposes. Whatever your reasons are, TouchCopy can help you save and print your Text Message, iMessage or WhatsApp conversations from your iPhone on your PC or Mac.

Messages saved and printed by TouchCopy contain images and emojis included in the message, as well as dates and times they were received, should you need this information for your reference, or for example for a court case.

It's available for both Mac and Windows computers, but it only works with iPhones. Sorry Android users.

It's worth the investment for peace of mind. Get it here:
